

Jetstream RotoLink™ rotary couplings are designed to prevent hose kinking when rotating tools are connected to stationary high-pressure water supply lines.

Constructed from durable stainless steel, RotoLinks ensure leak-free water flow to your tools at all times. A variety of inlet options and configurations are available to suit any application at pressures from 12,000-22,000 psi.

Available wear kits contain a high pressure seal, spring, and seat to allow the operator to quickly service a RotoLink in the field, while rebuild kits include all the components in the wear kit, along with bearings and lip seals, needed to completely overhaul the coupling.

JSG Series

- Powered rotary surface cleaners
- Large hose reels
- Automated surface cleaners

JSL Series

- Rigid lance machines
- Inlet swivel to a shotgun

JSH Series

- Between high pressure hoses and shotguns
- Small hose reels

JSM Series

- Used where an external motor or gearbox supplies power for rotation
- Hose reels
